Implementing Pūtake Nui

Ways to implement a Pūtake Nui Approach

Pūtake Nui is a collaborative approach for working towards a shared vision of Rotorua rangatahi being able to reach their potential. Effort focuses around four key Pūtake Nui principles: Rangatahi Wellbeing, Rangatahi with Aspirations, Act Early Act Together, and Rangatahi-centric.

There are multiple ways organisations and individuals can implement a Pūtake Nui approach:

a. Opportunities emerge from shared discussion as part of Pūtake Nui

An idea emerges through discussion between Pūtake Nui stakeholders, and people come together to develop the idea to the point at which it's ready to be delivered, including project planning, outcomes and measures. One organisation takes on the role of fundholder, so funding can be sought and team members engaged if necessary, and an Advisory Group of multiple stakeholders, including rangatahi, supports and provides oversight.

b. Collaborative responses to developing services for rangatahi

An opportunity arises to improve existing service provision for rangatahi by developing a collaborative response, for example through a Government RFP, tender, contract opportunity or similar. Pūtake Nui invites diverse stakeholders together to co-create and submit a proposal.

c. Organisation delivering a project or service using a Pūtake Nui approach

An organisation that is committed to the Pūtake Nui vision chooses to deliver a project or service in a way that embodies the Pūtake Nui approach.

d. Organisation supporting the Pūtake Nui vision

An organisation that is committed to the Pūtake Nui vision chooses to incorporate the Pūtake Nui approach, principles and values into their organisational culture: for example in their organisation's vision, strategic planning, policies, staff professional development, reporting, etc.

e. Influencers mandate and support the Pūtake Nui approach

An individual or organisation (for example funders, Government agencies, those with Rotorua-wide or regional roles) is able to influence the uptake and implementation of the Pūtake Nui approach through:

- Making connections between Pūtake Nui and other work that aims to create collective impact.
- Promoting the Pūtake Nui approach and vision and encouraging others to get involved.
- Creating opportunities to link Pūtake Nui implementation and learning with other work and networks.
- Setting an expectation that resource that supports Rotorua rangatahi uses a Pūtake Nui approach.
